One of our American contacts dealing in used motor cars has requested this office for information regarding a Blue Book which is published in America by some organization equivalent to a Used Car Dealers Association, in which the value of used cars of American makes is published quarterly. Our contact would be glad to know of the correct name and address of the association which issues this book, as well as the price thereof.

In addition, he desires to have information regarding any similar publication which may be issued showing the values for used cars of French, British and Italian makes.

Any information which you can supply us with reference to the above will be greatly appreciated.
