

Drawings Of Three Cars Prizes At Shanghai Auto Show To Be Made In Last Dazzling Days Of Exhibit

One Car Goes Tonight, Others Saturday And Sunday At 10.30; Special Programs Planned For Closing Weekend

Since the flurry of excitement over the autumn race meeting, with its attendant thousands who "felt like winning" but didn't, has subsided, interest has again turned to the big Shanghai Automobile Show which is running its final lap at the exposition palace, marked by the Eiffel Tower, at the corner of Avenue du Roi Albert and Rue Lafayette. The drawing for the Chevrolet car, in which more than 10,000 chances have been distributed, will be held at this exhibit this evening, at 10.30 o'clock, a special program being in store for those who journey to this center of entertainment at this time.

Tomorrow at the same hour, the prize Essex sedan number will be drawn, and on Sunday evening the Rugby will be given away on the drawing of a number taken from the admission ticket stubs in the last week. The Shanghai auto champion sweepstakes, "A," "B," and "C," will thus be run on three successive nights, and on each occasion a large crowd is expected to be attracted for the ceremony of drawing, a number of prominent officials having been invited to take part in the function.

Thirty-five automobiles thus far have been sold through the distributors who occupied booths at the exhibit, while more than 15 motorcycles have been sold and quantities of gowns and goods of other kinds. But the most interesting exhibits still remain on display, including the models that have attracted purchasers.

Altogether in the first ten days of the Auto Show, more than 10,000 visitors have been in attendance, and as the bulk of those interested, including large numbers of Chinese, will not visit the show grounds until the last few days, the total crowd for the exhibit is estimated to total well over 25,000, the cold weather having interfered somewhat with the attendance.

For those who are re-visiting the exhibit, a special new series of acts has been arranged by Manager H. Crawshaw of the Acme Advertising Agency, and numbers of those who hold tickets on the cars as well as new comers are expected to take advantage of this last opportunity of viewing the exhibits and enjoying the entertainment that will be especially appealing since the weather again has turned warmer. For the closing day on Sunday another of the popular series of tea dances and band concerts will be staged, the last two having drawn capacity crowds.
