FOREWORD

The war is having its effect this year on the enrollment of Chinese students in the United States. The high rate of exchange has made it necessary not only for a number to cut short their American education and return home but also for a number of capable Chinese students to postpone their coming to the United States.

Though the total number of Chinese students for 1939 to 1940 almost equalled the enrollment of last year, the students coming direct from China have dropped to 983 as compared to 1,163 last year. The total Chinese enrollment in American colleges for 1939 to 1940 is 2,237 made up as follows: 983 from China, 748 from United States, 475 from Hawaii, and 31 from Canada.

Little change is noticeable in courses pursued over previous years. Engineering, education, and the medical sciences still lead in popularity. More and more students not enrolled in strictly professional courses are pursuing research or graduate courses, while the American born are generally enrolled in undergraduate courses. University of Michigan, University of California, Columbia, Harvard, and M.I.T. still attract the greatest number of Chinese students.

The Association wishes to express its appreciation to all college registrars who so kindly cooperated in furnishing us the necessary information that has gone into this Directory.

DAVID TOONG,
*General Secretary,
Chinese Students' Christian Association*

Greetings to All Chinese
Students in America:

Since my last greeting to you, another year has gone by. Our resistance against the Japanese aggression is now nearing the end of its third year, with our government and people as determined as ever. The necessity of developing our national resources and reconstructing the interior has become increasingly urgent. This creates an unlimited demand for technically trained men in every field. Students in America have the best facilities for preparing themselves to shoulder this responsibility. I hope every one of you will work hard to qualify himself for the important task that awaits him.

HU SHIH,
Chinese Embassy,
Washington, D. C.

China long ago gave up aloofness from the rest of the world when she began to send her students abroad to study. America is proud that so many of China's leaders today were trained here. We follow their careers with keen interest, because you are no longer strangers when once you have been guests in our homes.

I trust that all of you may find America and Americans friendly. If anyone is unfriendly, you will readily understand that he lacks understanding. Try to teach him. You are both students and teachers while you are here. May you be successful.

RALPH CLELAND SCOTT.

THE CHINESE STUDENTS' CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION IN NORTH AMERICA ORGANIZATION

The Chinese Students' Christian Association in North America was founded at Colgate University, Hamilton, New York, on September 2, 1909. It is an organization of the Chinese students, by the Chinese students, for the Chinese students. Generally known as C.S.C.A., it has just celebrated its 30th year of activity last June.

PURPOSE

The purpose of C.S.C.A. is (1) to organize all Chinese students, especially Christians into cooperative efforts; (2) to build strong moral character and to foster the spirit of self-sacrifice; (3) to understand American life and society and to interpret Chinese culture and civilization.

FUNCTIONS

Practical Service

To members as well as to non-members, C.S.C.A. renders a variety of services. It includes the following:

To Students Entering Schools: Advice and information are given about colleges, entrance requirements, courses of study, facilities for research, expenses, living facilities. It furnishes information or help in regard to scholarships and fellowships and, through its nation-wide connections, introduces students to Chinese groups and American friends. When requested, it meets new arrivals at port and railway stations. This service is available to students in China as well as those in America.

To Students Returning Home or Going to Europe: It gladly assists in securing railway and steamship tickets, making reservations, visaeing passports, forwarding baggage or books, purchasing travellers' checks, etc. To those going home by way of Europe, it will help arrange itineraries, supply letters of introduction for visits in Europe, and in general, place at their disposal friendly assistance not easily available.

To Students Wishing Mail Service: The C.S.C.A. will receive and forward mail anywhere. Students, uncertain about their address, will find this service useful. To others wishing to locate a Chinese student in America or to contact one in China, this service is also available.

To Students Wanting Other Services: The C.S.C.A. will help buy books, for instance, at considerable saving. It will assist in locating part-time or vacation employment, or employment for practical experience. It will assist graduates in securing employment or teaching positions in China for which they are specially trained.

National Field Work

The General Secretary. The C.S.C.A. General Secretary is also the Secretary for Chinese students of the Committee on Friendly Relations Among Foreign Students with a Central Office to execute its program of service and to visit the different student centers throughout the country, to establish new units, to advise organized units, and to render necessary aid.

Speakers on China. A large number of colleges and universities invited the General Secretary to speak on subjects concerning China. Arrangements are also made for prominent Chinese visitors as well as student speakers to speak on China in different parts of the country. Through cooperation with allied student organizations, C.S.C.A. participates in many conferences, both international and national, every year.

Publications. The Chinese Christian Student is published monthly during the school year as the official organ. It contains general news of interest to Chinese, condensed news from China, special short articles, book reviews, brief editorial notes and newsy photographs. On special occasions, it issues special pamphlets.

Membership

Active: Active membership is limited to Chinese students in sympathy with the purposes of the Association.

Cooperative: Any person, either Chinese or American or other nationality, interested in the work of the Association, may become a cooperative member.

KEY TO DIRECTORY

The Directory is arranged alphabetically by states and, under each state, by colleges. Student names appear under each college alphabetically. At the end of the Directory is an alphabetical index that gives a complete list of all Chinese students.

The following information appears after each name: Family name, major course in parenthesis; college address.

The Directory lists the names of all Chinese students in the United States, including American born Chinese, Chinese students in Canada and Chinese students in Hawaii, both local and foreign-born.
