CHANCELLOR JAMES R. DAY
Syracuse University

Greeting

From my summer home, where I am taking a much-needed rest, I send you my hearty greetings and good wishes. It is a regret to me that I cannot be with you to welcome you and extend in person the hospitality of the University. But your welcome is none the less sincere and cordial. I have asked our capable Dean of the College of Liberal Arts to represent me. We are having at the University for the summer and early autumn a large body of drafted soldiers preparing for the front. Although these occupy our largest dormitory, we shall be able to furnish you ample dormitory and hall accommodations, besides facilities for recreation and athletic events.

I regret that the University will be closed at the time of your Conference, and the faculty and students will be away. It would be a valuable experience to meet you all, a distinct privilege to greet and welcome you. We believe that the University has much in its various organizations and the work of its many colleges and schools that would be of interest to Chinese students.

Syracuse is the central city of our great state. It has impressive public buildings, schools, and libraries. Many of its major industries are international in the scope of their activities. On account of its location and its abundant facilities, our city is a favorite meeting place for conventions, political, religious, and educational.

A decade ago I visited China and returned with enthusiasm for your mighty land and people. China will some day hold a leading place among the greatest nations of the earth. The intermingling of your people and ours will be of advantage to both in education, commerce, and religion.

It is to be regretted that the season at which you hold your Conference will find so many of our most distinguished away on their vacation. But those of us who are obliged to deny ourselves the privilege of your public meetings and of personally greeting you, join in heartiest good wishes that your Conference this year may prove the most enjoyable and successful of the entire series.

His Excellency V. K. WELLINGTON Koo, Ph. D., LL. D.
Chinese Minister to U. S. A.

A Message from

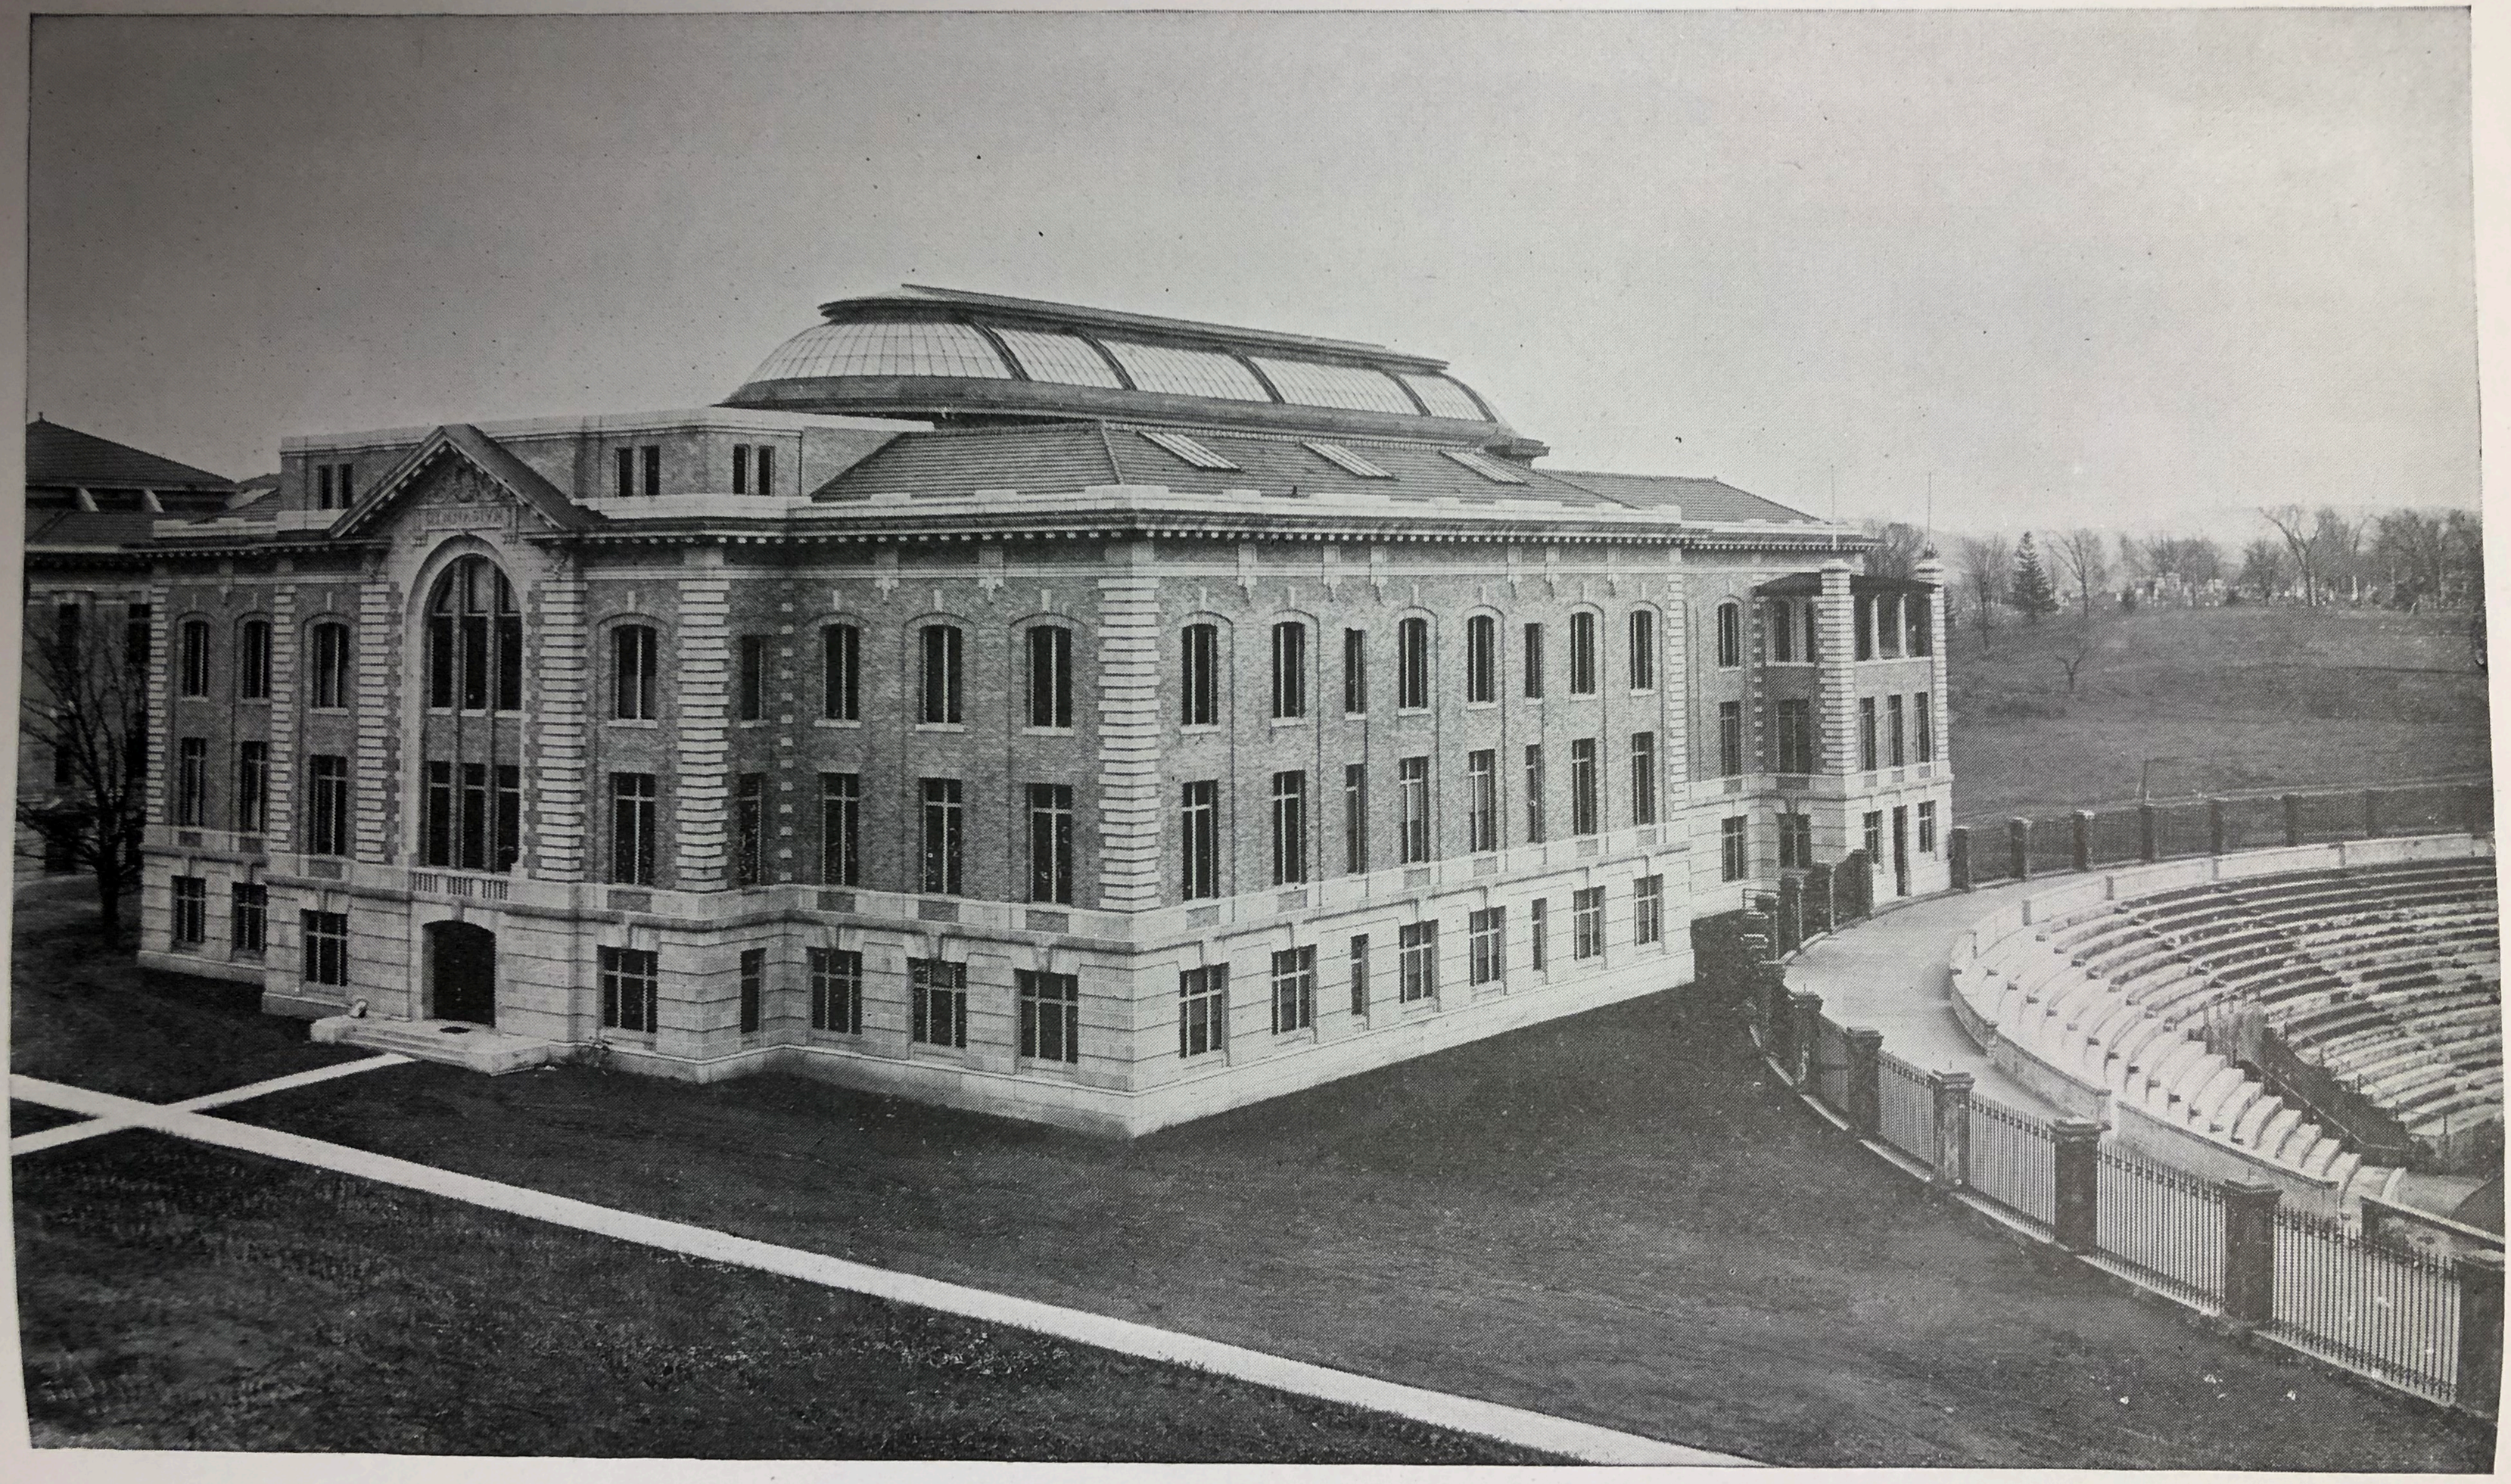

HIS EXCELLENCY V. K. WELLINGTON KOO, LL.D.,

Chinese Minister to Washington

It gives me great pleasure to extend through these columns my greetings to the students of the Eastern Section of the Chinese Students' Alliance.

You are soon to celebrate the Fourteenth Annual Conference. The usefulness of this annual function is attested by its growing importance and popularity. It is not only a pleasant occasion when old friendship can be renewed and new ones formed, but, taking place, as it does, at a time when you are free from the routine College work, it also affords an opportunity for you to turn your thoughts to a broader outlook in life; an opportunity for you to deliberate over the problems of our country and to rededicate yourselves to the high purposes which have brought you over to this country in pursuit of higher education.

There is, therefore, in addition to the social side, a more serious side to the Conference. Every student should feel an obligation to attend the Conference, not only to enjoy and learn all that there is to be enjoyed and learned, but also to contribute what little he can contribute to the success of the Conference.

Men's Gymnasium

A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN OF THE SECTION

Dear Fellow Students:

Efficiency and economy are the two watchwords of the present age in every step of action for every walk of life. It is especially fruitful when they are vigorously and properly applied to the use of time. We, Chinese students in this country, only have a very limited time for our stay, so the efficient and economical use of time is particularly of vital importance for the success of our future career. Besides our regular school education and practical work we cannot achieve any better results with such a minimum amount of time as that we spend once a year in our annual conference. This is especially true in the midst of our long summer vacation.

To those who have been working hard during the summer, the Conference offers a splendid opportunity for rest and recreation, while to those who have had a jolly vacation the Conference serves to turn their minds to some more serious thoughts. It combines the two functions—work and play.

As every feature of our Conference is improving every year, we may have reasonable ground to expect that this fourteenth Conference will not be far from perfect. Moreover, the unique location of Syracuse with the beautiful campus of the University and its interesting surroundings, will decidedly add one more attraction to our Conference-goers.

I cannot urge you too strongly to make a special effort to attend this Conference, and I can assure you that the eight days you spend at Syracuse will be time used most economically and efficiently.

Yours faithfully,

Y. T. CHANG, Acting Chairman.

Conference Notes

Conference Motto: Enjoy all that there is to be enjoyed;
Learn all that there is to be learned;
Contribute all that you can contribute
To make the Conference a Success.

Through the courtesy and hospitality of Chancellor James R. Day we are privileged to hold our Fourteenth Annual Conference at the Syracuse University. As far as the present war conditions permit, nothing that can contribute to the pleasure and convenience of the Conference is left undone by our generous hosts. We are fortunate indeed to have as the University representative to arrange the Conference with us, Professor G. A. Wilson, who has for a long time been the beloved friend of the Chinese students in Syracuse and who is doing everything possible to make the coming Conference a grand success.

Prof. G. A. Wilson

Although everything has a war price this year and the cost of living has advanced considerably, we have found it possible to cut down the Conference fee to twelve dollars ($12.00). This happy result has, in a large measure, been made possible by two factors. Through the kindness of Dean Richards, of the Women's Department, of Syracuse University, who has charge of the College cooks, the Conference will be served with meals at cost, which means quite a little saving of expenses. Then, on account of the brilliant success of the advertisement campaign conducted by Mr. Philip W. Chen, our Business Manager, and his staff of capable and faithful associates, the amount realized from this source of our income has broken all previous records. However, realizing, as one friend humorously remarked, that the stomach is the center of gravity, good and substantial food will be provided at the Conference.

In the preparation of the program we have borne in mind the two-fold objects of the Conference as pointed out in Minister Koo's message to the Conference. Both the social and

U. Y. Yen, LL.D.,
Director of Educational Bureau
of Chinese Ministry of Education,
Washington, D. C.

T. T. Wong,
Director of Chinese Educational
Mission to the U. S. A.,
Washington, D. C.

the more serious sides have been carefully taken into consideration.

Platform Speakers

The platform speakers whom we have invited to address the Conference are:

His Excellency V. K. Wellington Koo, Ph.D., LL.D.,
Chinese Minister to U. S. A.
Subject: China and World Democracy.
His Excellency Fan Yuan-lien,
Ex-Minister of Education and Interior
Subject:
Dr. John A. Mathews, Ph.D., Sc.D.,
President of Syracuse Chamber of Commerce
Subject: Builders of our Science
Professor George A. Wilson, Ph.D.,
Professor of Philosophy, Syracuse University
Subject: Priceless By-products of the War
Mr. Chang Po-ling,
Principal of Nankai School, Tientsin
Subject: The Task of the Returned Student

The presence of these distinguished speakers at the Conference and their addresses will be a source of great inspiration to all who may have the pleasure of meeting them and listening to their speeches.

The Conference as a whole and the students in particular will be delighted to hear that both Director Wong and Director Yen expect to be present at the Conference. We shall all be glad to greet them once more.

Open Forum

For the direction of the Open Forum meetings we are fortunate enough to have secured the services of Mr. P. Ling of Clarke University, Ex-Chairman of the Western Section of our Alliance. The nature of these meetings will assume a much more practical aspect than before. Instead of devoting these meetings to the exchange of opinions on the great problems facing our country, the effort this year will be directed primarily to a study of the actual conditions and development of the different phases of our national life. For the basis of our discussion a short but carefully prepared paper will be presented by each of the six leaders of discussion, giving an accurate but concise and logical statement of the basic facts involved. Printed outlines of these speeches will be ready at the beginning of the Conference. Great national problems must interest us all, no matter what our future professions. The subjects that will be taken up for discussion are:

1. Political History of the Year.
2. Diplomatic History of the Year.
3. Financial History of the Year.
4. Parties and Party Politics in China.
5. Recent Educational Development and Policies.
6. Leading events in the Industrial and Commercial Fields.

The National Defense League will conduct an Open Forum meeting on that important subject, either making use of a portion of one of the regular periods or arranging a separate period of its own.

Literary Contests

The literary contests as usual will consist of Chinese and English Oratorical Contests and Chinese and English Debates.

This has been a brilliant year for the Chinese students in their college oratorical contests. To mention just a few instances, the De Forest Prize of Yale, the Rich Prize of Wesleyan, and the Woodford and Fuertess Prize of Cornell have all been captured by Chinese students. We have, therefore, good reasons to expect a grand exhibition of oratorical talents at the Conference.

Let us also hope that our sister members will participate actively in these contests. It is encouraging to announce that Madame Koo will be pleased to give a set of prizes for any Girls' Debate that may be arranged. During the years past whenever one of our sister members made her appearance on the platform she went away with honors. Less modesty means greater honor.

Besides gold and silver medals to be awarded to the individual winners, attention should be called to the three standing prizes, possession of which, in each case, will be given to the winners of two successive contests. These are:

1. The Alfred Sze Cup for English Oration
   (Donated by H. E. Mr. Alfred S. K. Sze, Chinese Minister to London)
2. The Wellington Koo Cup for Chinese Oration
   (Donated by H. E. Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese Minister to Washington)
3. The Exchange Debating Shield
   (Exchange Prize from the Mid-Western Section)

Those who will take part in these contests are requested to hand in their subjects to the chairmen of the respective committees a week before the time of the Conference.

Athletics and Sports

Syracuse University has abundant facilities for athletics and sports. Besides the beautiful stadium, which has a seating capacity of 20,000, where field and track events may be held, there are ten tennis courts on the campus.

Except when we have excursions and outings the afternoon will generally be reserved for athletic contests and physical recreation.

Beautiful cups for Track Championship and Tennis Tournaments, and medals for Athletic and Game Contests, etc., have been donated to the Conference by the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce.

Besides holding contests among ourselves it is hoped that some games may be arranged with faculty members or local teams.

Social and Entertainment

The social side of the Conference will receive its proper attention. A definite sum has been appropriated and entrusted to the Social Committee who will doubtless make things as pleasant and enjoyable to the delegates as possible. Dr. W. P. Wei, Secretary of the Chinese Legation and an Ex-President of the Alliance, has made a special donation for our social entertainments.

Among the many little pleasant surprises that are being planned is a lawn party on the campus of the Teachers College. The Teachers College occupies a building put up in the style of an old castle surrounded by a little wood. The whole atmosphere has a touch of medieval romanticism about it.

The Conference Banquet, the Inter-Club Stunt Night, and the Public Entertainment Evening will be great social events. Let each club contribute its share of wit and humor to these merry-making occasions.

Excursion to Niagara Falls

The Niagara Falls are about 170 miles northwest of Syracuse. Under the present new railroad rates a sum of twelve to fifteen dollars is necessary to make the trip. If an excursion party can be arranged with reduced rate the trip would be a very attractive and desirable one. We will do our best through the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce to see whether any such arrangement can be made, but under the new railroad regulations the task would be pretty difficult, and we are not prepared to give an assurance of success. However, whatever can be done we hope to do through the help of the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce.

Syracuse and Its Vicinity

But in the immediate vicinity of Syracuse are several beautiful lakes. Cornell University, with its beautiful campus, and Ithaca, with its famous Cayuga Lake and Laghannock Fall, are within sixty to eighty miles of Syracuse.

Syracuse itself is an industrial center. Trips of inspection to some of the leading manufacturing concerns can be easily arranged for students of professional interest.

Acknowledgments

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all who have contributed in prizes or money to the Conference, especially to the Educational Bureau of the Ministry of Education under Director U. Y. Yen, the Chinese Educational Mission to U. S. A. under Director T. T. Wong, and the Chinese Students' Clubs at Columbia, Harvard, Pennsylvania, M. I. T., Johns Hopkins and George Washington Universities.

We also wish to acknowledge with deep appreciation and thanks personal donations from Minister and Madame Koo of Washington, Minister Alfred Sze of London, the Honorable Fan Yuan-lien, ex-Minister of Education, the Honorable C. H. Chu, Chinese Consul-General at San Francisco, the Honorable Y. Y. Young, Chinese Consul at New York, Mr. H. N. Street of the Providence Chamber of Commerce, Dr. W. P. Wei of the Chinese Legation, Washington, and Mr. C. H. Hsie of the Chinese Educational Mission, Washington.

Thanks are due to the members of the Advisory Council for their advice and help, and also to Mr. S. T. Leo, Mr. T. L. Sun, and Mr. P. F. Shah for their unofficial assistance.

We also want to express our appreciation of those who have advertised in these columns.

Special mention should be made of the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce whose President is going to honor us with an address and which has made liberal donations to the Conference in cups and medals.

Finally, we are greatly indebted to the authorities of the Syracuse University for their kindness in inviting us to hold our Conference at the University, particularly to Chancellor Day, Professor and Mrs. Wilson, Dean Peck, Dean Richards, and the members of the Fine Arts Faculty.

Cottages—Quarters for Lady Delegates

General Information

Time—The Conference opens on Tuesday evening, September 3, and closes after breakfast on Wednesday, September 11.

Fee—A program fee of $12.00 is payable by all delegates to the Conference, the same as last year. This fee will cover all expenses.

An extra sum of one dollar will be charged of those who are not members of the Alliance.

Delegates attending a portion of the Conference will be charged $2.50 a day.

Registration—Upon arrival at the Conference delegates are to proceed to the Administration Building for registration and payment of fees. Assignment of rooms and board will then be made.

Reception Committee—The Reception Committee will be at the railroad station to meet all incoming trains on September 3. As far as possible, delegates arriving late will also be met at the station if the Committee should be notified in advance of the exact time of arrival. Whenever necessary, telephone over to the Conference Headquarters, Administration Building, Syracuse University, for information and assistance.

Transportation—Syracuse is in the central part of New York State and is a railroad center. It is about 80 miles northwest of Ithaca, 290 miles from New York City, and about 250 miles from Springfield. There is direct through train service from both New York and Springfield. Delegates coming to the Conference from or through New York City are advised to take the Hudson Day line from New York to Albany, which is a very enjoyable trip and which means quite a little saving of traveling expenses. The trip will take a little more time, but delegates will still be able to get over to the Conference from New York in a day.

From Station to University — Arrangements are being made with the Onondaga Taxicab Co. to carry delegates from the railroad station to the University at a fixed rate. The tentative arrangement is that 25 cents apiece will be charged of each delegate from the Station to the University, provided there are at least four in the car. Any party less than four will still have to pay the minimum charge of $1.00 for each car.

As to street car service, the Walnut Car is the best one to take. This car runs close to the station and will take the delegate to College Place, which is directly opposite the University Campus.

Accommodation—All men delegates will be housed in Haven Hall and Winchell Hall. Lady delegates will be accommodated in Reid Hall and the Cottages. All these buildings face the campus and are within a few hundred yards of the Administration Building and the John Crouse College, where we are going to hold our meetings.

Student Waiters—From ten to fifteen positions of waitership are open to delegates who desire to work a few hours a day during the Conference. Those who accept such positions will be refunded ten dollars on the program fee. Student waiters will be excused from waiting at the Conference Banquet. Applications should be sent as much beforehand as possible to Mr. K. Huang, 510 West 124th Street, New York City.

Mail and Telegrams—Mail and telegrams should be addressed to Conference Headquarters, Administration Building, Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y.

Club Banners and Musical Instruments—Delegates are earnestly requested to bring to the Conference their college and club banners as well as their musical instruments. Those who can play on Chinese musical instruments are especially requested to do so. General compliance with this request will add much to the pleasure of the Conference.

Program—As far as possible, a copy of this program will be sent to every member of this section. But on account of the frequent change of addresses during the summer it is exceedingly hard to insure actual delivery of the program to every one. Those who fail to receive it will get it by writing to the Conference Secretary, care of Apt. 3, 110 Morningside Drive, New York City. Extra copies may be had for fifteen cents each. Remittance may be made in stamps.

New Students Coming

According to the latest report the next batch of Tsing Hua students will come to America on the China Mail liner S. S. Nanking, leaving Shanghai on August 3. Members of the party will likely find Conference Programmes waiting for them at Honolulu. Many of us will probably have the pleasure of the first meeting with our friends and relatives who are coming over this year at the Conference.

Still in its Youth—

WE are constantly receiving letters from all parts of the world telling us of Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pens twenty and thirty years old still giving perfect service.

That is why we are surprised when people tell us that ten years is a long life for a fountain pen. A Waterman's Ideal is still in its youth at that age.

There is nothing about a Waterman's Ideal to wear out. Made of the best hard rubber—has a scientifically made gold pen point tipped with iridium, the hardest metal known. It is proof against time. It is a necessity, an investment and an heirloom, all in one.
